COURSE DESCRIPTION
This course surveys the history of Latin America from early contact in the late fifteenth century to a period of reform in the late eighteenth century. Colonialism is presented as a multiethnic conversation, one that was filled with violence and informed by power relations, but one that also saw all ethnic groups participating in the formation of colonial societies and hence to the general shape of Spanish and Portuguese rule. To test this thesis the interactions between Europeans, Amerindians, and sub-Saharan Africans will be explored by deconstructing Eurocentric ideas of discovery, conquest, and civilization. This multiethnic encounter will also be followed through labour relations, Indian and Spanish acculturation, conversion, popular religion, race, gender relations, and the formation of group identities on the eve of the wars for independence.

COURSE OBJECTIVES
This course has several objectives that deal specifically with the history of colonial Latin America and the craft of history more generally. After having completed this course, you will have been exposed to some of the general themes of the region’s colonial past. But more importantly, you will have learned about the cultural creativity and historical agency of people of all ethnic backgrounds during the viceregal period. During both lectures and tutorials, you will be listening to the multiplicity of Latin American voices through an analysis of a wide range of sources: histories, hagiographies, letters, indigenous codices, legal documents, travel narratives, engravings, drawings, architecture, and religious and secular paintings. By the end of this course you will have obtained the following set of historical skills:

- The ability to distinguish between primary and secondary sources
- Bibliographic knowledge to properly format both footnotes and bibliographies
- Critical reading skills to interpret a wide range of historical documents
- Writing techniques to persuasively communicate an argument about the past
- Cultural sensitivity to diverse customs and different ways of viewing the world

II. LECTURES AND LECTURE READING

Every week there are two fifty minute lectures. It is extremely important that you attend weekly lectures, read the assigned reading beforehand, and participate in our document exercises of primary sources. Since the final exam is based upon lecture material, it is imperative that you listen attentively and take appropriate notes.

III. TUTORIALS AND TUTORIAL READING/IMAGES

Weekly lectures are accompanied by eleven fifty minute tutorials in which you are responsible for the following:

- viewing and analyzing the assigned images
- reading and reflecting upon the required readings
- attending weekly tutorials
- participating generously with your tutorial group

Your overall tutorial grade will be evaluated based upon the following two interrelated elements:

- attendance
- participation

ATTENDANCE is mandatory for all students for every tutorial and only proper excuses will be considered acceptable reasons for not attending. If you are unable to participate in a tutorial you should communicate with your teaching assistant beforehand and not after the fact. Please be reminded that Tutorial #4 (Cataloguing “Race” and Rare Books) will be held in the Seminar Room of the Thomas Fisher Rare Book Library at the same hour as your regular tutorial time.
PARTICIPATION in weekly tutorials means reading the required readings, viewing the assigned images, and sharing what you have learned with everyone else; it does not mean giving long discourses with the aim of racking up points. You need to respect your fellow students by giving concise responses that edify the group and provide others with the opportunity to share their opinions. Remember that listening is an important skill, but not one that helps others to learn about the topic under discussion. Anyone who fails to attend a weekly tutorial will be assigned an automatic zero for his/her participation mark for that specific tutorial. For a more detailed description of how your tutorial participation is evaluated see the “Guide to HIS291H” posted on Blackboard in the “Important Handouts” folder.

IV. LECTURE AND TUTORIAL CONDUCT
You are expected to treat the instructor, teaching assistant, and your fellow students with respect. This means arriving to class on time, keeping noise levels to a minimum, turning off cell phones during both lectures and tutorials, and using personal computers for note-taking only. Personal computers will not be used for surfing the web, Facebook, games, checking email, or for watching videos.

*You need to take the map quiz, hand in all writing assignments, and write the final exam to receive a passing grade in this course.

*All writing assignments must have footnotes and a bibliography formatted according to the Chicago Manual of Style.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS

I. MAP QUIZ

1. Description and Purpose
The first assignment of this course is a map quiz to be held in class on September 21, 2016 between 3:10PM–3:20PM. You are responsible for learning the names and locations of the vicereoyalties of Spanish and Portuguese America together with the viceregal capitals, principal ports, and other major colonial cities. Use the maps listed below in preparation for the quiz.

2. Important Details
Due Date, Time, and Place: September 21, 2016 between 3:10PM–3:20PM (SS2110)
Sources:
- See maps posted on Blackboard
II. DOCUMENT EXERCISE: DESCRIBING THE “INDIAN”

1. Description and Purpose

The second assignment of this course is an essay comparing Christopher Columbus’s (ca. 1450–1506) first letter about his initial voyage to the Caribbean with Pero Vaz de Caminha’s (1450–1500) early letter on Brazil. You will carefully and critically read through these two letters and compare how their authors describe indigenous peoples. The purpose of this assignment is to think about the textual imbalance of the early encounter in the so-called New World. Europeans—not indigenous people—recorded what happened in these two cases and they did so according to their own cultural assumptions. This document analysis provides you with an opportunity to exercise your historical imagination and to engage with primary sources in a critical fashion. You must think about the biases of the authors and how they viewed the world they were experiencing. Before writing your paper you should review the “Guide to HIS291H” posted on Blackboard in the “Important Handouts” folder.

2. Important Details

Due Date, Time, and Medium: September 30, 2016 before midnight (Blackboard)
Length: 4 pages (double-spaced, 12-font, Times New Roman)

III. PROPOSAL/OUTLINE/ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY

1. Description and Purpose

The third assignment of this course is a short proposal on a research topic of your choosing together with an outline and annotated bibliography. A proposal, outline, and annotated bibliography are designed to provide you with the opportunity to do some preliminary research in preparation for writing. This will allow you to develop an initial argument, one that might change with further research. It will also provide you with the opportunity to evaluate your sources to see what is both available and useful for your particular topic. Your proposal (2 pages) should briefly describe your topic and general approach. What are the research questions you hope to address? Why did you choose your topic and why is it important? When you write your outline (1 page), briefly address how you plan to prove your arguments. What is your evidence and what is the best way to deploy it? How do you plan to organize your paper? And when you craft your annotated bibliography, include brief descriptions (2–3 sentences) of all your sources. What is the general argument of the book or article? How is it useful for your research paper? You can modify your topic and add or remove sources from your bibliography after submitting your proposal, but if you make substantial changes you should notify the instructor. Before writing your proposal you should review the “Guide to HIS291H” and the “Guide to Primary Sources” posted on Blackboard in the “Important Handouts” folder.

2. Important Details

Due Date, Time, and Medium: October 14, 2016 before midnight (Blackboard)
Length: 3 pages [Please note that this required amount of pages does not include the annotated bibliography.] (double-spaced, 12-font, Times New Roman)

Sources:
- At least 1 primary source
- At least 7 secondary sources (both journal articles [4] and books [3])

IV. RARE BOOK EXERCISE
1. Description and Purpose
The fourth assignment of this course is an exercise with colonial books and manuscripts in the Thomas Fisher Rare Book Library, the location for Tutorial #4 (Cataloguing “Race” and Rare Books). David Fernández—a rare book librarian at the Thomas Fisher—will guide you through a series of indigenous forms of recording keeping, manuscripts, and printed books in the Seminar Room, which means you need to listen attentively and take appropriate notes (attendance will be taken). After his presentation you will have the opportunity to carefully handle, inspect, and leaf through some of these valuable treasures. Your task is to concentrate on one of the three colonial books he will have on display: an indigenous language tool for Nahuatl by Horacio Carochi, a sacred biography (also known as a vida or work of hagiography) on Pedro Claver by José Fernández, and a history of the conquest of Peru by Pedro Cieza de León. Using the assignment template available on Blackboard in the “Important Handouts” folder, you need to record the call number, main author, title of the book, place of publication, the publisher, date of publication, and the total number of pages. After this, you should cite the book as it would appear in both a bibliography and a footnote according to the Chicago Manual of Style. Beyond this basic bibliographic information, you also need to provide a physical description that details the condition of the book and the material in which it was bound. Then, based upon your basic knowledge of the book, provide four key words that would help researchers locate this work in a library catalogue search. Your final task is to provide a detailed description of the engraving or woodcut that accompanies the book together with a brief analysis of how “racial” difference is represented in the image. The purpose of this assignment is to think about how books were produced during the colonial period and their contribution to how peoples were classified in Spanish America. You do not need knowledge of Spanish or art history to complete this assignment. The reading listed below will prepare you for the tutorial in the Thomas Fisher with an introduction to the production of books in Latin America.

2. Important Details
Due Date, Time, and Medium: October 24, 2016 before midnight (Blackboard)

- The three rare books for this assignment will all be made available for consultation in the Thomas Fisher Rare Book Library

V. RESEARCH PAPER
1. Description and Purpose
The fifth assignment of this course is a research paper based upon the theme you chose for your proposal. A research paper is designed to provide you with an opportunity to exercise your research and analytical skills and to refine your historical imagination. You need to be able to find relevant material on a topic in the library, organize your findings, and then construct an argument about what you discovered. Be passionate about the topic you have chosen by investigating a research question that matches both your intellectual interests and academic curiosity. Each essay must include at least 1 primary source and at least 7 secondary sources. Beyond e-Books and e-Journals available through the University of Toronto Libraries, online sources are (for the most part) strictly prohibited.
As you carry out your research you must look for work by reputable scholars, which means performing word searches in the library catalogue and other databases of scholarly journals. Before writing your research paper you should review the “Guide to HIS291H” and the “Guide to Primary Sources” posted on Blackboard in the “Important Handouts” folder.

2. Important Details
Due Date, Time, and Medium: November 18, 2016 before midnight (Blackboard)
Length: 9 pages (double-spaced, 12-font, Times New Roman)
Sources:
• At least 1 primary source
• At least 7 secondary sources (both journal articles [4] and books [3])

VI. FINAL EXAM
1. Description and Purpose
The final exam is a series of essays based upon the entire course. You should treat a final exam as an opportunity to demonstrate what you have learned in both lectures and tutorials. A successful exam is a reflection of your own personal engagement with the material covered throughout the entire course.

2. Important Details
Exam Date, Time, and Room: TBD
Sources:
• Lecture reading, material, document exercises, and images
• Tutorial reading and images

UNIVERSITY POLICIES
1. ACADEMIC INTEGRITY
Plagiarism—taking credit for someone else’s work, be it an idea, a citation, or an essay found on the internet—is a serious offence and will be treated accordingly. For further details on academic integrity, you should consult the Office of Student Academic Integrity (OSAI) website at http://www.artsci.utoronto.ca/osai. Remember that academic integrity is the foundation of learning and scholarship and essential for a degree from the University of Toronto. If you have questions or concerns about appropriate academic behaviour, research methods, or proper forms of citation, you should speak with your instructor or teaching assistant or visit the following website:
http://sites.utoronto.ca/academicintegrity/resourcesforstudents.html. You are bound by the University of Toronto’s Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters available at www.governingcouncil.utoronto.ca/policies/behaveac.htm. Some of the academic offenses listed in this document are the following:

In papers and assignments:
- Using someone else’s ideas or words without appropriate acknowledgement.
- Submitting your own work in more than one course without the permission of the instructor.
- Making up sources or facts.
- Obtaining or providing unauthorized assistance on any assignment.

On tests and exams:
- Using or possessing unauthorized aids.
- Looking at someone else’s answers during an exam or test.
- Misrepresenting your identity.

In academic work:
- Falsifying institutional documents or grades.
- Falsifying or altering any documentation required by the University, including (but not limited to) doctor’s notes.

II. ACCESSIBILITY SERVICES
If you require academic accommodations related to a documented disability, you are encouraged to familiarize yourself with the services available on the Accessibility Services website at http://www.studentlife.utoronto.ca/as. The instructor and teaching assistant are committed to a respectful and open learning environment, so please discuss any accommodations you might need with them well in advance of due dates and scheduled assessments.

III. COURSE WITHDRAWAL
If you wish to withdraw from this course without academic penalty you must do so before November 7, 2016. After this deadline a mark is recorded for this course, whether it was completed or not, and calculated into your overall GPA.

ADMINISTRATIVE/ACADEMIC MATTERS
I. EMAIL POLICY
Emails will be checked weekly between Monday and Friday and students should expect a response within 48 hours (excluding weekends). You may feel free to email the instructor about any questions you may have concerning the course, but every message should indicate in the subject line “HIS 291H” or it may be placed into junk mail. Not only this, but according to the Policy on Official Correspondence with Students all students must use a current University of Toronto email address.

II. BLACKBOARD
The syllabus, tutorial readings, important handouts, internet links, lecture outlines, and document exercises will all be available for consultation on Blackboard. It should be noted, however, that you are responsible for either printing off the lecture outlines and document exercises and bringing them with you to class or pulling them up on your laptops or smart phones. These documents will appear on Blackboard on the Sunday of each week before lectures on Monday and Wednesday.

III. SUBMISSION AND LATE POLICY
All assignments must be word documents and submitted via Blackboard before the established due date (although the teaching assistant has the right to request a hard copy).
Assignments that are handed in late without the instructor’s permission will be penalized 5% of the assignment’s worth per day after the due date (including weekends). When an assignment is more than five days overdue it will not receive written comments. All extensions must be approved by the instructor or teaching assistant beforehand and only valid excuses will result in permission to hand in an assignment late. In order to receive an extension you need to provide a Verification of Student Illness or Injury form and establish a new due date in consultation with the instructor.

IV. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY
All lectures and course materials are the intellectual property of the instructor. One must acquire written permission to tape, photograph, video-record or digitally reproduce anything from the course. Students requiring accommodations will be granted permission based upon their specific needs in consultation with the instructor.

V. ACADEMIC ASSISTANCE
There are several services available at the University of Toronto to help you with essay writing and all matters of academic life. All students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with the resources available on the Academic Success Centre (ASC) website at http://www.studentlife.utoronto.ca/asc. Also helpful for writing history papers is the utoronto.ca/undergraduate/essays/.

VI. GRADING
To earn a passing grade in this course you must take the map quiz, hand in all of the writing assignments, and write the final exam. All submitted papers that do not have a bibliography and/or are less than the required length (even a paragraph under) will be considered incomplete and penalized accordingly. For more information on how to write an essay and on how they are evaluated see the “Guide to HIS291H” posted on Blackboard. Here are some of the general characteristics your papers should have:

• A title page with the title of your paper, your name, course code, instructor, and the date
• An introduction clearly stating the theme of your paper and its general argument
• A proper use of sentences, paragraphs, punctuation, spelling, and grammar
• A manageable topic and organized structure
• An intelligent use of sources and signs of original research
• A quality of analysis and a general demonstration of effort
• An informative conclusion concisely summing up your paper
• A bibliography and footnotes according to the Chicago Manual of Style
• A format using 12-font and Times New Roman letters on double-spaced pages
• A page number at the top or bottom of every page (excluding the title page)
REQUIRED TEXTS

*All other readings and images (whether scans or internet links) for this course are available on Blackboard (with the exception of e-Books and e-Journals available through the University of Toronto Libraries Catalogue).
